

- Why is this week's topic important for teamwork?

This week was so important because we all worked together in accomplishing our Acorn project status and our presentation.

- How do plan on contributing to the team, besides completing your tasks?

I was available to meet even though it was not easy sometimes, I also contributed with idea and wrote some part of the Acorn project status.

- How does your experience relate to other experiences you have had?

It relates to other experiences I had because we worked previously together and we met many times, so we are more accounted with each other.

- How does your experience relate to other classmates' experiences?

My experience relates to my teammates because we all had a part to accomplished. It was very insightful.

- Tell me about what you taught someone? And what did they learn that they didn't know before?

I have shared the benefits and the challenges of working as a team with my girlfriend, it was very funny to hear what she had to say about it. She related it to our relationship and the importance of taking the time to understand people around us and be active in all that we do.
